

Eliminating the AWS skills gap

Go fast and go confident to AWS with Ensono

"I don't have the IT skills in house, and I'm looking for the personal touch from an expert integrator"

Through 2022, insufficient cloud Infrastructure as a Service (IaaS) and Platform as a Service (PaaS) skills will delay half of enterprise IT organizations' cloud migrations by two years or more. But with compelling events including data center shutdowns, changing consumption models and pressure to support business change, you need to move fast.

Addressing resource.

Three questions to consider:

- How do I ensure a partner has the right level of experience and expertise?
- How do I build the capacity if I want to take ownership after migration?
- What do I do if I want a single partner, but don't want to work with a major GSI?

Ensono augments your teams – instead of replacing them. And we have the scale and expertise of a GSI – but with a very different 'client-first' approach.
